ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

We are honoured to be on the ancestral lands of the Dharawal and Wodi Wodi people. We would like to acknowledge the First Nations as the traditional custodians of the continent, whose cultures are among the oldest living cultures in human history.

We pay respect to Elders past, present and emerging.

WELCOME

Welcome to our little piece of paradise. Whether you need to unwind, unplug or unleash, the Kiama area has everything you need for an unspoilt and unforgettable experience...

Much has changed in Kiama since my family started as dairy farmers here more than 150 years ago. The important things have not. We still boast lush rolling hills, unspoilt beaches, ancient rainforests and towns and villages where the people have the time and space to live life the way it should be lived. I'm proud of what we have here, and invite you to experience it as well.

At any time of year there's something to enjoy. Whether you're a foodie, an art lover, surfer or just a motoring enthusiast that loves winding country roads, Kiama, Gerringong, Gerroa, Jamberoo and Minnamurra all have something to offer. Enjoy your visit, and remember: there are no strangers here, just friends you haven't met.

HISTORY & HERITAGE

Discover the early days of this resource-rich region

Traditional stories speak of the nomadic Dharawal people who once regularly passed through this heavily bush-clad region, following trails north to Bass Point (Shellharbour) or La Perouse (Botany Bay) and making camp near modern-day Jamberoo (which means 'track' in Aboriginal dialect). In December 1797, George Bass sailed alongside Kiama Blowhole, becoming the first European to witness what indigenous Australians had called "where the sea makes a noise".

This arrival ushered in a new wave of industry that would see the towering cedar forests all but removed in the following century, while basalt quarries were carved across the region to supply a growing nation. Today, heritage buildings from the late 19th and early 20th century provide historical landmarks, and sit upon the silent reminders of Kiama's ancient beginnings.

KIAMA

The classic coastal escape

The famous “whoosh” of Australia’s biggest blowhole sounds off from behind the iconic lighthouse on the hill. Nearby, swimmers splash at the beach or in a purpose-built rockpool while couples sip coffee on the street. In the harbour, boats bob up and down on their moorings and children fish off the jetty. Norfolk pines stand tall as friendly locals say “g’day” and a train emerges from a tunnel, easing past a church steeple on its way to the station. Welcome to Kiama.

Just a short drive and 500 metres up, Saddleback Mountain lookout sits at the end of the escarpment, offering incredible views across the rolling hills, sparkling ocean and township below. Standing at this vantage point, it’s easy to see why Kiama has held a special place in the hearts of holidaymakers since the very first came here back in the 1890s.

Hugging the coast as it curves in and out of headlands and beaches, this is a setting blessed with natural beauty. Today it offers all the conveniences of a modern escape.

If you’re looking for a chance to recharge and relax, Kiama has thoughtfully placed everything within walking distance — including its world famous blowholes, shops, cafés and stunning golden beaches. And if you need information or advice, you’ll find it with the friendly folk at the Visitor Information Centre, on Blowhole Point near the Lighthouse. (If you end up in the ocean, you’ve gone too far!)

Kiama truly is a classic coastal destination, with the perfect mix of experiences to suit every kind of break — from social gatherings and family adventures to chilled getaways and romantic rendezvous.

GERRINGONG & GERROA

A breath of fresh air

A short, winding stretch of highway separates Kiama from its twin neighbours to the south, and no matter how many times you round that final bend, the gentle sweep of Werri Beach is always breathtaking.

It's here, at the southern welcome mat to the Kiama area, where you'll find the quintessential holiday spot of Gerringong. This iconic small town is famous for its chilled out vibes all year round — where a sunrise surf or dip in the local rock pools remains one of the best ways to welcome a new day.

A few gentle hills, one hidden beach and a golf course away, the town of Gerroa sits merrily on its own headland facing the long horizon-kissing curve of Seven Mile Beach. This is a playground for windsurfers and swimmers, as well as being home to NSW's favourite surfing classrooms, where surf schools hold regular “board meetings” amongst the wide, friendly waves.

✓ YOUR POCKET ITINERARY

- ✓ Snap incredible views at Mt Pleasant lookout just south of Kiama or Kingsford Smith lookout in Gerroa.
- ✓ Explore the history and seclusion of Gerringong's hilltop cemetery and ocean pool at Boat Harbour.
- ✓ Hit the open seaside links of scenic Gerringong Golf Course.
- ✓ Hang ten with surf lessons on the beginner-friendly waves at Seven Mile Beach.
- ✓ Spend an afternoon among the vines at nearby wineries or see what's on tap at the local brewery.
- ✓ Sample Gerringong's award winning galleries, boutiques and cafés.

The sky just feels bigger down this way; the air cleaner — a place to exhale life's worries. Yet mixed in with the “laid back feels” there's a fresh new scene, one filled with coastal chic, that proudly celebrates its surf culture and chillaxing creativity.

Enjoy a drink on the balcony or by the fire at Gerringong's hilltop bar. Listen to live music while sampling a paddle at the local microbrewery or soak up impossibly tranquil views at the nearby wineries. Browse the surf shop, cute boutiques and stunning pieces at the award-winning gallery, or create your own art in Gerroa's unique pottery workshops. It really is a breath of fresh air!

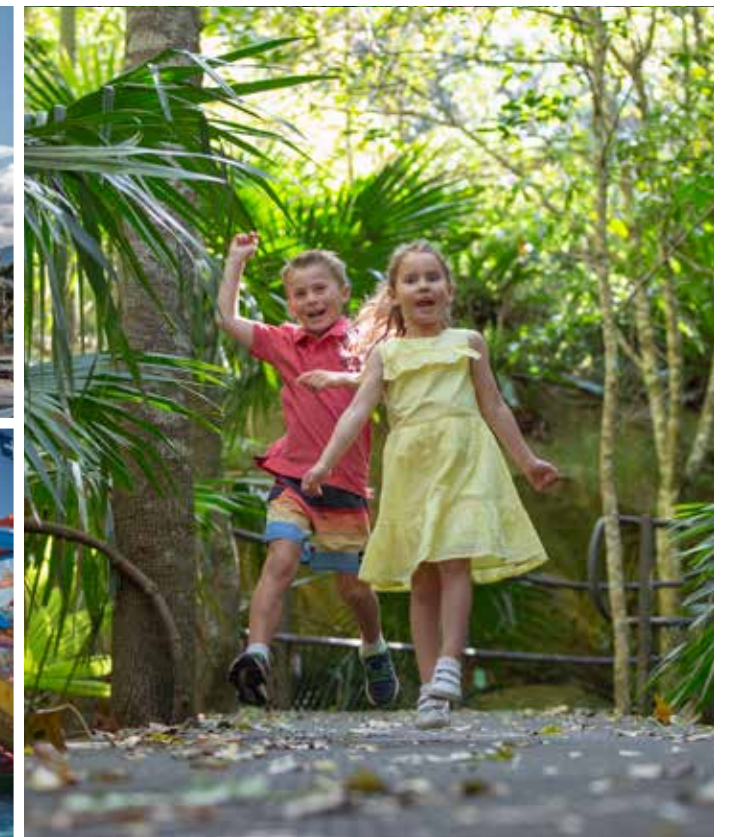

To cap it off, once a year Gerringong hosts the popular SurfLife Festival — a celebration of its coastal lifestyle and confirmation that this is a place where nostalgia and new experiences come together in perfect harmony.

JAMBEROO

Action, adventure and quaint country lanes

Flying through lush ancient rainforest on Australia's highest zipline, it's hard to believe that you're just a short drive from Kiama's golden sands. But that's what makes Jamberoo so special; a completely different experience tucked away in the foothills and mountaintops of our area's western border.

Even within this small footprint, you have the full spectrum of adventures on offer. At one end, the gentle pace of dairy farming life and Jamberoo's quiet lanes, where leisure cyclists or the Illawarra Shorthorn cattle are the only traffic you're likely to meet.

But then, just when you think it's all meadows and picnics, along comes NSW's favourite water theme park — open September to April and dishing up a splashtastic mix of world-class thrill rides, slides, lazy rivers, wave pools and much more, all just five minutes' drive from that same sleepy township.

✓ YOUR POCKET ITINERARY

- ✓ Control the action at NSW's favourite water theme park Jamberoo Action Park — filled with wild rides and family-friendly summer fun, all juxtaposed amid idyllic green hills!
- ✓ Enjoy the views and get your heart racing at the Illawarra Fly Tree Top Walk and eco-zipline adventure.
- ✓ Take in spectacular vistas from the Illawarra Lookout, at the top of Jamberoo Mountain Road.
- ✓ Hike to the waterfall at Minnamurra Rainforest.
- ✓ Play 18 holes at the beautiful Jamberoo Golf Course or try footgolf in the afternoons.
- ✓ Visit Barren Grounds Nature Reserve to glimpse rare birdlife and colourful wildflowers.

Need more of an adventure fix? The great outdoors is at its greatest out here, from Minnamurra and Carrington waterfalls to hidden pools and a cantilevered treetop walk offering panoramic views north across the entire Kiama region and beyond. Don't forget that zipline either, or tee off with a unique round of footgolf!

Nature lovers and walking enthusiasts will delight at the many tracks and native flora and fauna on offer throughout the Barren Grounds Nature Reserve and Budderoo National Park. Marvel at towering cedars, cabbage trees, coachwoods, tree ferns, banksias and wildflowers. Discover lyrebirds, echidnas, bowerbirds, platypus, wallabies and many more furry and feathered locals (see page 28).

And when the day is done, do what the locals do and meet up at historic Jamberoo Pub (a must-visit) for live music and to swap stories of another day in this piece of paradise.

MINNAMURRA & BOMBO

Where Mother Nature meets Father Time...

Kiama's coastline is a wonderland of geological delights, and nowhere is that more evident than along the stretch from Minnamurra to Bombo. The Minnamurra River marks the northern border — a safe swimming spot and home to kayakers, paddle boarders, fishing enthusiasts and more, all enjoying its sandy shores and tidal personality.

This point also marks the start of the Kiama Coast Walk, and you'll get your first views within minutes. Minnamurra Headland takes in everything from the township and golf course (tucked into the glistening curve of the river) all the way out to the secluded Mystics Beach and offshore Stack Island.

Dramatic and varied coastline defines your journey south, including historic indigenous sites in the river mouth and whale watching opportunities as you stroll to popular surf spot Jones Beach and its world-famous photogenic Cathedral Rocks. Feeling peckish? Be sure to grab a gourmet burger or brew from the nearby village to fuel your adventures.

Further on, a detour to the sheltered cove known as The Boneyard is a must-do, while Bombo Headland's "out of this world" backdrops are truly dramatic. The basalt rock formations here are the product of both the region's rich mining history and centuries of powerful ocean forces.

This slice of coastline is truly nature's playground. And this becomes even clearer as the wild beauty of Bombo Beach and Kiama lighthouse come into view, with many surfers enjoying one of the South Coast's most popular breaks.

YOUR POCKET ITINERARY

- ✓ Make the most of Minnamurra River — swimming, stand-up paddleboarding or kayaking.
- ✓ Catch a wave at Minnamurra (Mystics) Beach, Jones Beach or North Bombo.
- ✓ Grab a picnic and snorkel the unique rocky reef at the Boneyard — accessed by parking at the end of Cliff Drive.
- ✓ Get your camera ready for some stunning panoramic views at Bombo Headland — including towering rock columns leftover from blue metal quarry days.
- ✓ Explore the highly photogenic Cathedral Rocks, at the southern end of Jones Beach.
- ✓ Take in a round at the tree-lined Kiama Golf Course.

DID YOU KNOW?

- ▶ Bombo quarry's "moonscape" has made it a popular spot for shooting TV commercials and music videos.
- ▶ Stack Island off the Minnamurra headland is also known by locals as Rangoon Island, after the coal ship Rangoon was wrecked upon its rocks in 1870.
- ▶ Bombo railway station (opened in 1887) has the reputation as the closest station to the coast in Australia.
- ▶ Boneyard is said to have got its name from coral washed up on the sand giving the impression of scattered bones.

THE BLOWHOLES

Every so often, nature likes to show off...

For many first-time visitors, Kiama is synonymous with “blowhole”. But how much do you actually know about our most famous residents?

The first thing is that there are in fact TWO, not just one. The larger Kiama Blowhole is located next to the lighthouse. It has a 2.5m wide opening and has been recorded at heights of more than 30 metres (that’s similar to an 8-storey building). Meanwhile, about 2km south, the Little Blowhole is smaller but arguably more consistent. You can reach it via the Kiama Coast Walk or drive to Tingira Crescent.

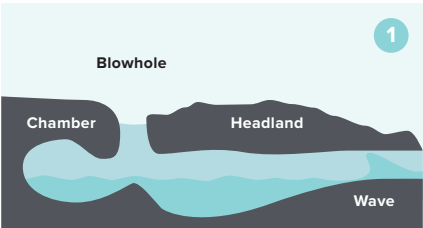

HISTORY LESSON

Just how old are our blowholes? Let’s put it this way — they stopped getting excited about birthdays a LONG time ago! Around 260 million years ago (that’s 100 million years before the dinosaurs), basalt lava flowed into the sea to form these coastal rock formations. Over time, ocean erosion of softer rock inside sea caves created the holes we see today (see diagram).

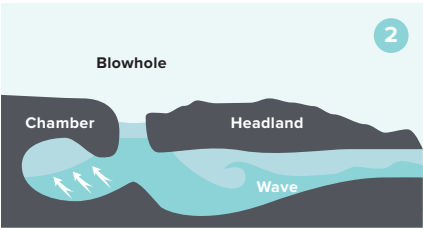

The blowholes were discovered by local indigenous tribes, who called the large one Khanterinte, while one of the translations of the name Kiama is “where the sea makes a noise”. They were first written about in 1797, when George Bass sailed past – the first European to visit the area.

VIEWING THE BLOWHOLES

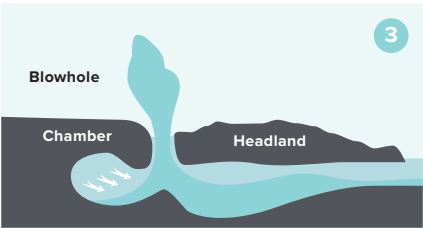

If your friend told you to bring coins to operate the blowholes, they were joking. This is strictly nature’s show and she can be a fickle mistress. The blowholes aren’t affected by tides — it’s

Over time, a long sea cave is hollowed out from a ‘dyke’ (intrusion) in igneous rock known as latite, allowing waves to enter.

Under the right conditions, big waves force their way into the cave, compressing the air inside the rear chamber.

This compressed air acts like a drill, powering the incoming wave vertically – initially forming the blowhole and thereafter forcing water up through it.

all about sea swell and wind direction. At the big one, you get the best, ‘whooshiest’ results in a SE wind, while the little one likes to show off in the more common NE wind.

Both viewing locations have parking and are paved with access for wheelchairs, strollers, etc. to get up close. Have your camera ready to go — it’s always a great view, regardless of whether nature puts on a show.

KIAMA COAST WALK

One of Australia's most scenic coastlines is yours to explore

Ocean views, spectacular rock formations, unspoilt beaches and delightful detours. The Kiama Coast Walk has it all — an unbroken ribbon of exploration stretching some 20 kilometres from the mouth of the Minnamurra River south through Kiama to Gerringong's Werri Beach.

Completed in 2009, this modern coastal classic hugs the edge of our mighty continent while offering a mix of sealed paths, grassed tracks and beach walking. The hills are gentle enough for most fitness levels and the views — did we mention the views? Simply breathtaking. All times of day, all year round.

You can enjoy the Kiama Coast Walk in its entirety or simply stretch your legs on a shorter section — the choice is yours. Just don't forget your camera...

ASK THE LOCALS

Q: How should I pronounce “Kiama”?

A: Think of how you would say “I AM A” and it rhymes with that. So “I AM A visitor to KIAMA”. Easy!

Q: What hours does the blowhole operate?

A: Mondays/Tuesdays 8am-10am and 1pm until..., no, just kidding! It’s a natural attraction, and is open 24/7 every day of the year. For more, see page 16.

Q: Are the blowholes affected by tides?

A: No, it’s all about sea swell and wind direction. For more information, see page 16.

Q: Any good walks/hikes in the area?

A: Oh, you’re in for a treat! The Kiama Coast Walk extends around 20km from Minnamurra to Gerringong. It even has its own spread (pg 30-31) in this guide. You’ll also find some other great walks on pages 32-33.

Q: Where are the good surf spots and can I hire boards?

A: For beach/surf info, check out page 18. Hiring and surf supplies available at Kiama and Gerringong surf shops.

Q: Is Minnamurra Rainforest in Minnamurra?

A: It’s actually west of Jamberoo (easily signposted from there) at the start of the Minnamurra River, and not in the village of Minnamurra, which is where the river meets the sea.

Q: Does Kiama have a railway station?

A: It does – located on the very originally named Railway Pde, 2 minutes from the main street and 10 minutes from the lighthouse/blowhole. There are also stops in Minnamurra, Bombo, Gerringong and Berry before terminating at Bomaderry (Nowra) in the south.

Q: Where can I see kangaroos?

A: If you’re extremely patient, one may bounce down the main street in the middle of the night. But otherwise, you’ll want to head further south along the coast (or to a wildlife park or zoo).

Q: Why are they called the Cathedral Rocks?

A: Because the rocks are shaped exactly like ping pong tables. Okay, no – it is of course because they resemble the spires of a cathedral (albeit a soggy one). Bring your camera.

Q: Is Kiama a good place for fishing?

A: We give fishing enthusiasts the same advice that we give broken-hearted visitors – “there are plenty of fish in the sea!”. Check out page 72 for some fishing spots and advice. (Personally, we consider Kiama quite the catch...)

Q: Can I free camp in the Kiama area?

A: Very good question. While there are no free camping facilities in Kiama town itself (great holiday parks though!), in Jamberoo campervans can park alongside the creek near Kevin Walsh Oval. It’s a nice spot – bring your skateboard.

Q: You mentioned great holiday parks?

A: Yes, you’ll find these at Surf, Kendalls and Easts Beach, as well as Werri Beach in Gerringong and alongside Crooked River at Gerroa. Top notch – family friendly, couples friendly, pet friendly, human friendly.

Q: And other accommodation options?

A: Absolutely. Come in and see us at the Visitor Information Centre or browse and book online at kiama.com.au

Q: Can I see any other blowholes during my stay?

A: Well if you’re here April to November, you may be lucky enough to see the blowholes of migrating whales that like to splash about just offshore!

Q: Where can I find free maps, local info and those cool Kiama wave stickers?

A: At our Visitor Information Centre of course! Blowhole Point, Kiama – open daily 9am-5pm. This has been a blatant plug.

Q: Is Seven Mile Beach actually seven miles long?

A: It’s pretty close, at 12.5km or 7.8 miles in length, starting at Gerroa in the north.

Q: Is Jamberoo famous for jam? Or roos?

A: Neither. Although live musicians regularly jam at the famous pub and during their music festival (see page 5).

Q: It’s raining. Can you give me some ideas of things to do?

A: As a farming region, we love the rain! See page 58 for a list.

Q: If I dug a hole directly through the Earth from Kiama, where would I come out?

A: First up, congrats on those digging skills. But be sure to bring your goggles, as you’ll be emerging in the North Atlantic Ocean, not far from Portugal’s Azores islands.

Q: Should I tell my friends how great the Kiama area is?

A: YES – they deserve happiness too! And share the love with us by tagging @kiamansw and #kiama (or #gerringong, #gerroa, #jamberoo, #minnamurra, #bombo) in all your photos.
